Telephone Helpline Need to Talk?

Safe Helpline serves members of the Department of Defense community affected by sexual assault including survivors, their friends and family, and allied stakeholders.

- Get information about how to support a survivor.
- Get information about military policies such as reporting options (restricted and unrestricted), safety plan with staff members, and recieve emotional support.
- Receive referrals to both military and civilian resources in your area including SARCs/SAPR VAs, chaplains, legal, medical/behavioral health care, military police, and civilian sexual assault service providers (SASPs).

Safety and Security

Safe Helpline staff never ask visitors for personally identifying information (PII) and will politely discourage visitors from sharing information in order to protect their privacy.

Safe Helpline never records, transcribes, or stores telephone calls.

Executive Order 13696 keeps communication between visitors and Safe Helpline staff for the purpose of receiving advice, support, or assistance as privileged information in cases arising under the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

Who Will Visitors Talk With?

Safe Helpline staff are trained to meet the unique needs of survivors within the DoD community. Staff training meets National Advocate Credentialing Program (NACP) requirements, the civilian equivalent of D-SAACP.

While they come from a variety of backgrounds, each staff member has a passion for helping others and is carefully vetted and trained to ensure they are providing quality support to Safe Helpline visitors.
